THE 6TH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE OF ENGLISH AS A LINGUA FRANCA ELF6

INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION: NEW PERSPECTIVES FROM ELF

ROMA TRE UNIVERSITY, ROME, ITALY
SEPTEMBER 4-7, 2013

follows on from the highly successful first five conferences in the series, held at the universities of Helsinki (2008), Southampton (2009), Vienna (2010), Hong Kong Institute of Education (2011), Istanbul Boğaziçi University (2012).

This annual event, attended by a growing community of international researchers and scholars, has generated a huge groundswell of interest and support for ELF studies. Our intent, this year, is to consolidate this tradition and propose promising directions for future developments.

The following PLENARY SPEAKERS have confirmed their participation:

- Alessia Cogo, University of Southampton, Southampton
- Martin Dewey, King's College, London
- Diane Larsen-Freeman, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor
- Joseph Lo Bianco, University of Melbourne, Melbourne

CALL FOR PAPER

The special theme of the conference is
INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION

However, the conference is open to all other ELF related topics such as:

- ELF and intercultural communication
- Theoretical approaches to ELF
- ELF and Language Policy
- ELF and Language Education
- ELF description & Corpora
- The Sociolinguistics of ELF
- Contact languages and ELF
- ELF Assessment and evaluation
- ELF and Multilingualism
- Pedagogical implications for ELF
- ELF learners

TYPES OF PRESENTATION

Proposals are invited for Paper presentations and Poster displays.

The Paper presentation discusses and describes work that the presenter is doing or has done in relation to theory, research or practice (Duration: 30 minutes, including 10 minutes for discussion).

The Poster display enables participants to post their ideas/thoughts/materials on a notice board and answer queries/respond to comments from participants.

Poster sessions will be scheduled as part of the conference programme. Specific guidelines for poster presentations will be sent together with the acceptance notice.

Abstracts should be submitted by March 3, 2013 by email to:

elf6_abstracts@uniroma3.it

PUBLICATIONS

All full paper presentations will be published in an online proceeding book of ELF6. The deadline for full manuscript submissions is November 30, 2013. In addition, selected Conference papers will be published by a distinguished publishing house.
